A Note From Our Pastor

My Dear Parishioners,

The ancient Fathers of the Church used to call Jesus the 'Doctor of the soul'. That's a comparison that can help us understand this idea. Sometimes doctors and dentists have to cause temporary discomfort or pain in order to bring about long-term health. The cut of a surgeon's knife hurts, but it leads to healing and strength in the long run. Sometimes the medicine that a doctor prescribes tastes bitter and harsh. And yet, that same medicine will cure the sickness that is much more dangerous.

The thorn that Saint Paul mentions in this Sunday's Second Reading is like the surgeon's knife or the bitter medicine. As painful as it is, he recognizes that God is permitting it for a reason; to cure him of his tendency to arrogance and self-absorption. Likewise, when God allows difficulties to plague us, He is not absent from them, but at work through them, like a good doctor with a sharp scalpel.

Peace,
Fr. Mike

THE SEVENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

V. Praised be Jesus Christ... R. Now and forever!

*Omnes gentes pláudite mánibus:
iubiláte Deo in voce exultatiónis.
Quóniam Dóminus excélsus terríbilis:
Rex magnus super omnem terram*

O clap your hands, all ye nations:
shout unto God with the voice of joy.
For the Lord is high, terrible:
a great king over all the earth. PS. 46:2-3

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, the Introit sets the theme of rejoicing in God, great King, in voice and in action. The use of the word “terrible” is not to be misconstrued – terrible, in this sense means striking awe in those who recognize who and what He is.

Paul speaks to the Romans about proper vs. improper living, and there are layers of meaning. Remembering the first century context, Paul speaks of slavery. Slaves were sold from one master to another, and the slave would reflect on his former and new situations, past vs. present. Paul uses speaks frequently about sexual sin, but there is something more going on here. He also employs ἀνομία [anomia = lawlessness]; so, it is a whole gamut of unwholesome living. The old way is slavery to sin, with the effects of uncleanness and lawlessness, with the end result being eternal death. The new way is ‘slavery’ to righteousness, with the effects of holiness, with the end result being eternal life.

And the Gospel gives us a study in observing the ‘fruits’ of human behavior, comparing these to the realities of nature. Does one get grapes from such plants as “thorns, figs, or thistles?” Jesus relies on the common sense of His listeners. The ‘plant’ is the interior dispositions of the person – if one is a ‘thorn’ of a person – sharp, unpleasant by nature, should one expect that person to outwardly manifest good fruit? There are plenty of wolves in sheep’s clothing to go around – we all have met them; and by their fruits we all know them. Not all who cry, “Lord, Lord” will be saved – utterly contradicting those people who speak of a “reasonable hope” that all are saved, or that I am “in” because I have accepted Jesus as my “personal savior.” This takes little account of what Jesus actually says. Behavior matters – we cannot pay lip service and expect Jesus to assume all the accountability – bad fruit from poor interior disposition leads to eternal death.

Our Lady of Mount Carmel taught us the value of the scapular. A prayer offered while holding the Scapular is as perfect as a prayer can be. It is especially in time of temptation that we need the powerful intercession of God’s Mother. The evil spirit is utterly powerless when the wearer of a scapular faces temptation, calling upon the Holy Virgin in this silent devotion. “If you had recommended yourself to me, you would not have run into such danger,” was Our Lady’s gentle reproach to Blessed Alan de la Roche, one of her devoted servants. Always wear yours!

To Jesus Christ be all glory forever!

*“It is not sufficient to love souls in the secret of our heart,
working and sacrificing ourselves for them;
this love must also be manifested exteriorly by an agreeable and pleasant manner, in such a way that those who approach us may feel themselves loved.”*

~ Fr. Gabriel of St. Mary Magdalen, O.C.D. [1893-1953] OCD
