A Promise to Protect

The Diocese of Trenton is committed to the initiatives outlined in the U.S. Bishop's Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People in regard to the reporting and investigation of sexual abuse allegations involving minors. If you have been sexually abused as a minor by a member of the clergy or anyone representing the Catholic Church, or if you know of someone who was, you can report that abuse through the Diocesan Abuse Hotline: 888-296-2965 or via email at abuseline@dioceseoftrenton.org.

A Note From Our Pastor

My Dear Parishioners,

Why did Jesus, who is God, and therefore all-powerful, allow Himself to fall asleep just when things were getting really tough, really scary, for His followers? This is a question we all have to face sooner or later. Maybe we won't be on a boat during a storm that threatens to sink us, but each one of us will run up against some kind of storm before we die. In fact, in this fallen world, it is safe to say that the storm is the norm. It may be the long and painful sickness of a loved one, the death of beloved child, damage caused by a family member's addictions and infidelities, the ravages of war, a debilitating natural disaster, financial ruin, or maybe just intense, heart-sickening loneliness.

Why does an all-powerful God go to sleep in our boats and let these storms rage against us? The Catechism tells us clearly that we will not understand God's ways fully until we meet Him face to face on the other side of death. [Catechism #324: The fact that God permits physical and even moral evil is a mystery that God illuminates by his Son Jesus Christ who died and rose to vanquish evil. Faith gives us the certainty that God would not permit an evil if he did not cause a good to come from that very evil, by ways that we shall fully know only in eternal life.]

But we can understand God's ways partially, if we understand God's agenda for our lives. God's agenda for our brief journey through earth isn't perfect comfort and unbroken pleasure. Rather, He wants us to achieve the wisdom, courage, joy, and inner balance of spiritual maturity. In other words, He wants us to get in shape for heaven. And that involves learning to trust in Him more than in ourselves, learning that we are not all-powerful. That's hard to learn, because it goes directly against the spiritual DNA we have all inherited from original sin. And so, sometimes, God goes to sleep in our boats and lets the storm rage, so that we will come to know and accept the reality of our limitations and the truth of our dependence on Him.

Peace,

Fr. Mike

Local Food Bank Donations for the Poor

Monthly food bank donations of nonperishable and non-expired food are collected on the first weekend of each month. The next collection weekend will be July 6-7. Kindly place your donations in the containers that will be located at the three Church entrances. Thank you for your continued generosity and support.

Summertime and the Livin's Easy

by Bishop David M. O'Connell, C. M.

June 17, 2024

Summer is a special time for family and friends by making time for them. No school! Picnics and barbecues; trips to the shore or mountains or wherever we enjoy some rest together; longer hours of daylight and star-filled nights; sitting outside, playing games, going to carnivals or summer concerts, taking long, leisurely walks or renewing healthy exercise to shed some winter pounds; gardening, picking strawberries or Jersey tomatoes and eating Jersey corn on the cob; doing lots of things or doing nothing in particular, summer is a time to slow down and realize how blessed we are by God, surrounded by those we love most who are truly gifts the Lord places in our lives.

Summer gives us an opportunity to pray without a lot of the usual distractions; to go to our parish church and celebrate God's presence a little more often, maybe during the week; to read some good books – perhaps something spiritual – to help nourish and strengthen our souls; to engage in conversations we may not otherwise have time for; to tell stories, share memories and laugh with one another, something we may not do enough!

I have to believe that when God created the world and time and the seasons, he gave us summer as a “pause that refreshes,” again if we allow ourselves the time to pause. It is part of nature to soothe our human nature and ready ourselves for the long, busy months that follow.

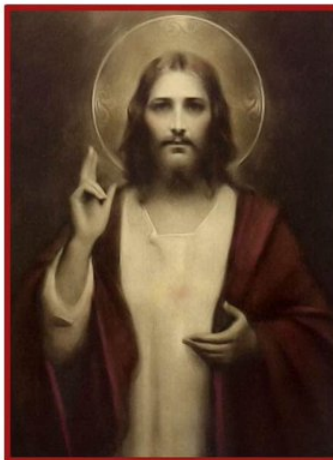

This summer, take the time, whether long or intermittent, to renew and refresh yourselves. You need it. It is a gift from God. Show your gratitude for this wonderful, amazing gift by using it with your families and friends, for your families and friends ... for yourselves.

Don't forget to get to confession, Mass and Holy Communion throughout the summer months. Life is always happier and better when we include the Lord Jesus in our plans.

May God bless you this summer with fun, relaxation, safety and the joy that renews your lives, your spirit and your faith.

The Promises of the Sacred Heart of Jesus to St. Margaret Mary

- (1) "I will give them all the graces necessary in their state of life."
- (2) "I will establish peace in their homes."
- (3) "I will comfort them in all their afflictions."
- (4) "I will be their secure refuge during life, and above all, in death."
- (5) "I will bestow abundant blessings upon all their undertakings."
- (6) "Sinners will find in my Heart the source and infinite ocean of mercy."
- (7) "Lukewarm souls shall become fervent."

(8) Fervent souls shall quickly mount to high perfection.

(9) "I will bless every place in which an image of my Heart is exposed and honored."

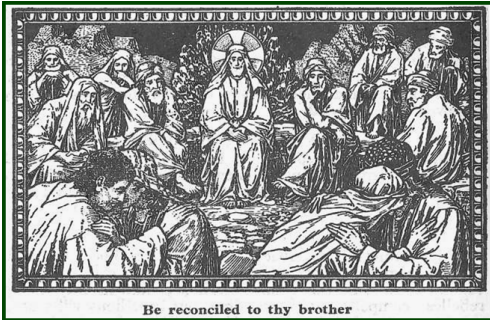

10) "I will give to priests the gift of touching the most hardened hearts."

(11) "Those who shall promote this devotion shall have their names written in my Heart."

(12) "I promise you in the excessive mercy of my Heart that my all-powerful love will grant to all those who receive Holy Communion on the First Fridays in nine consecutive months the grace of final perseverance; they shall not die in my disgrace, nor without receiving their sacraments. My divine Heart shall be their safe refuge in this last moment."

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

☩. Praised be Jesus Christ... ☩. Now and forever!

READINGS:
1 PET 3:8-15
MT 5:20-24

Exáudi Dómine vocem meam, qua clamávi ad te: Hear, O Lord, my voice with which I have cried to Thee:
Adjútor meus esto, ne derelínquas me, be Thou my helper, forsake me not, neque despícias me, Deus salutáris meus. Nor do Thou despise me, O God, my Savior. [Ps. 26:1]

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, the Introit sets the theme of our dependence on God – He can do for us that we cannot do for ourselves – namely, to preserve us unto life everlasting. It is a plaintive cry of someone who is in distress, and fortunately knows to Whom to turn. Our Epistle of today is a difficult for the human being – we are kind of wired for “eye for an eye.” Note how St. Peter tells us something rather different. We may suffer evil, but we are not to return it. Quite the opposite, we are called to render good to those who give us evil. This is a tough part of the Christian life, but essential, if one is to be a true follower of Jesus. Peter reminds us that the Lord will set Himself against evildoers – it is not in our preserve to do so. We have to trust the balance of justice and mercy that only God is qualified to mete out. The Gospel continues with the theme that we are to behave better than those of civil and Church authority, if they are behaving badly. Those who bear the name ‘Christian’ must be above the normal human condition in terms of justice. As in the case of the Epistle, we are bidden to seek out peace, even if it pains us. Our righteousness is to transcend that of the ordinary, if we are to be fully and authentically considered to be children of God. The Carmelite life is one of deep and profound prayer, a life that begs God to send us all peace and reconciliation. We pray and sacrifice for all who simply cannot or will not pray for themselves or for the good of humanity – we beg God that the world is not lost through sinful stubbornness of those who ignore the teaching of today’s readings.

Throughout his life, Fr. Titus Brandsma O.Carm. was a man of forgiveness and reconciliation, even in the most complicated of situations. When he was Assistant Press Officer of the Catholic Press, he had to face the political instability predicated on the rise of the Nazi movement. Fr. Titus always demonstrated a willingness for dialogue, open to the pleas of all. Through this, he earned the nickname “the reconciler.” Inevitably, through his resistance to the evil of Nazism, Fr. Titus was captured and sent to Dachau, the notorious concentration camp, where he was murdered by a lethal injection. Pope Francis canonized him a saint May 15, 2022. May Fr. Titus pray for us all to be heroic in virtue, always willing to forgive and to be reconciled. To Jesus Christ be all glory!

Lord, nothing here below can comfort me, neither creation, nor Heaven, nor earth, nor men, nor angels, nothing can give me the joy, the peace that I have lost in losing you, my God.

~ Quote of S. Mary of Jesus Crucified [Mariam Baouardy ‘The Little Arab’, 1846 -1878], OCD, V.
